Finish Work On New Addition To Library

Work on the new addition to the Library was completed early this week. Through the generosity of the Carnegie Corporation of New York City, $25,000.00 was available for improvements, and this amount has been spent in building and fitting out a new stack room, and in remodelling the old stack room into a reading room.

The new stack room is three floors in height, and has a shelf capacity at this time of 50,000 books, with provision for rearrangement when needed to accommodate 150,000 volumes. At present the library has 35,000 volumes, and this number is increasing at the rate of approximately 4,000 volumes per year.

The old stack room has been converted into a reading room with accommodation for 30 readers, and, in addition to this reading space, offices for the librarian have been fitted out. Above the offices in the balcony, leading into the fire-proof vault in which are kept the valuable records of the College and rare books.

A number of the books added to the library are gifts from friends of the College. One of the most generous patrons of the library is Hon. Robert M. Hughes, of Norfolk, who keeps the library constantly in mind, and has donated a number of valuable collections.

One of the most valuable additions to the library during the past few months was a collection of 200 books, presented by Mr. Joseph H. Smith, Instructor in English. This collection contained a number of books which are of practical value in the work in the Department of English.

The Librarian has hoped that the additional reading space provided by the new addition would be sufficient for the present; but the library has become so popular that it will be necessary to place five additional reading tables in the vacant space in the

Four Men Elected To Flat Hat Club

The Flat Hat Club held its regular bi-weekly meeting last Monday night in the home of Dr. R. C. Young. The following men were elected to membership in the Club: Alva H. Cooke, Ted Dalton, Larry Green, and John Todd.

The Club will meet Monday evening of next week at the home of P. P. Peebles on Frances Street.

On behalf of the student body, the Flat Hat extends to L. W. Parsons and Willie Parsons its deepest sympathy in their recent bereavement. They received a message Tuesday morning telling of the death of their father, Monday night.

Prominent Alumnus Announces Removal

A card has been received from Francis S. Key-Smith, an alumnus of William and Mary, announcing the removal of his law offices to the Insurance Building, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Key-Smith was a student at William and Mary during the sessions from 1890 to 1892, and in 1896 graduated in law from the National University Law School, of Washington, D. C. He has practiced law in Washington continuously since that time with the exception of three and a half years when he gave up his practice to enter the army during the World War.

He saw thirteen months' service in France with the 33rd Division and was in the battle of the Meuse Argonne. Upon returning to the States in the summer of 1919, he was transferred from the Quartermaster Corps, in which he held the rank of Captain, to the Judge Advocate General's Office and served as a member of the Claims Board, Transportation Service, Washington, D. C., and later as a member of the legal staff, Transportation Service, Hoboken, N. J., during which period of time he was engaged in the settlement of large claims against the Government growing out of the construction of railroad trackage in the large camps by the railroads, and the commandeering and charter hire of vessels.

He returned to his practice in February, 1921, and is specializing in Departmental practice. Mr. Key-Smith is professor of this branch of law in the American University, Washington.

Dr. Pollard Guest Of Bankers' Club

Dr. John Garland Pollard, Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship at the College of William and Mary, was a guest and one of the speakers Saturday night at a banquet given by the Bankers' Club, of Richmond, at the Commonwealth Club, in honor of W. W. Hoxton, the new Chairman of the Board of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, and Governor D. R. Chrissinger, of the Federal Reserve Board, and H. M. Dawes, Comptroller of the Currency.

New Members Elected To Wythe Law Club

At a meeting of the Wythe Law Club held last week, the following were elected to membership in the Club: Professor Spicer, Alva Cooke, Ted Dalton, J. Swanson Smith, W. Holladay, C. Holladay, Madison, Sexton, Downing, and Marshall.

The Wythe Law Club, which was organized two years ago, is composed entirely of men studying law.

NORFOLK TO TURN OUT BIG FOR INDIAN-TIGER BATTLE

Y. W.'s Hallowe'en Party Was Success

Shaded lights and weird figures, grinning jack-o-lanterns and witches' cauldrons, suppressed chatter and elammy, clutching hands—all these greeted us last Saturday night when we entered the Jefferson gym. Immediately we felt that some wonderful old feeling that only Hallowe'en can bring—just pleasantly creepy.

We were not left in the dark for long, however. Soon the lights flashed on and the weird apparitions resolved into many varied human figures. Miss Wilhelmina Swann, who presided over the occasion, announced that the contest for the most attractive costume would take place. The grand march was led back and forth before the judges' stand. While the judges were considering, Miss Mildred Vaiden entertained with a dance.

The judges awarded the first prize to Mr. and Mrs. Saturday Night, who were dressed in bath towels and carried tooth brushes, soap and Dutch Cleanser. The second prize was awarded to the "Flat Hat Girl." Her entire costume was made of copies of our own dear "Flat Hat" (we knew they'd come in handy sometime). Among those receiving honorable mention were Pierrot and Pierette, an old negro washwoman; a soldier and a nurse, a gypsy, Miss Valentine, two "roses" and a battered individual labelled "Richmond after the game."

A dance by Miss Jordan, the next number on the program, was followed by a selection of popular songs by the old washwomen. (We couldn't see her face, but it sounded like "Victrola music.")

Miss Sue Ferratt gave an Egyptian dance and Miss Anna Wilkins a Russian ballet. Next, a small, frail little girl stepped forth to sing a solo; but when she began to sing her voice was a deep, strong bass. We fear there's a trick in it somewhere, but it's certainly well concealed.

And now for refreshments—regular Hallowe'en refreshments, too! Pink lemonade, gingersnaps, apples (of

Jan Garber To Play Here November 26

Jan Garber himself, with eleven imitable melody producers, and 35 instruments, will visit William and Mary on November 26, and play for the first German Club dance of the year.

Frances Gibbons, President of the German Club, has received a letter from Jan stating that he will come all the way from New York to play for this dance, simply because he "thinks so much of the girls of William and Mary."

Tomorrow afternoon at League Park, in Norfolk, William and Mary will clash with its ancient and ever dangerous rival, Hampden-Sidney, in the most important gridiron contest in Eastern Virginia. After losing successively to Hampden-Sidney for a period of thirteen years, the Indians gained a 32 to 6 victory over the Presbyterians last year, decisively outclassing and outplaying them; and now Charles Bernier, the famous Southern coach, who returned to coach his Alma Mater this season, brings a rejuvenated Tiger eleven to Norfolk seeking revenge from the Indians and to wipe out the 1922 defeat.

Incidentally, it will be a big day in Norfolk. The Chamber of Commerce is spending $3500 for decorations, and other frills, and has arranged a big parade, in which 3600 gobs from the fleet, and three bands, will take part. After the game, the sailors will be given a supper, and then a big boxing tournament will be staged, to which all William and Mary players and students are invited. Coach Tasker, who was in Norfolk Monday, completing arrangements for the game, says it will be the biggest thing in football that has been in Norfolk for years.

Dr. Chandler has granted permission for all classes to be suspended at ten o'clock tomorrow morning, and arrangements have been made for a number of busses to leave here early enough to reach Norfolk in time for the game. They will return to Williamsburg the same night, allowing those who wish to do so to avail themselves of a reduced rate and to return to College the same night.

William and Mary is the favorite on paper, and is counted on to win, but among these old rivals the game is never won until the final whistle blows. The Hampden-Sidney bunch is a scrappy and aggressive eleven as was shown in their recent game with Roanoke, when the Maroons were forced to resort to the aerial attack to gain ground. On the offensive they have an outstanding star in "Ben Smith," who is a consistent ground gainer and broken field runner, and a punter of no mean ability.

The Indian eleven has been going

Announcement

The attention of all upper-classmen is called to the rule in effect at William and Mary that there shall be no hazing. This rule will be strictly enforced. To avoid any trouble that may arise, the Discipline Council asks the co-operation of the entire student body in the enforcement of this rule.

(Signed) B. G. WILLIAMS,
Pres., Discipline Council.

By The Way

When a private stationed at Fort Benning was engaged in cleaning a rifle which he had just drawn, he pushed out a small roll of paper which contained the following message: "This rifle was used by Pvt. Franklin Webster, 2010213, I Co., 125 Inf. I fired this point-blank at seven Germans, Oct. 7, 1918, in an attack on the Kriemhilde Stellung during the Meuse Argonne offensive. On Oct. 11, 1918, I fired with this rifle 115 rounds while in the third battalion, 125th Inf. Gassed in the Death Valley near Geanes, France. Whoever draws this rifle can know it has done its bit."

A protest against the singing of Christmas carols in the public schools of Spokane was made at a recent meeting of the school board in a letter from Rabbi Julius Levin, of the Temple Emanuel, and Sam Edelstein, attorney, an official of the synagogue. I was pointed out that Christianity was looked upon by Judaism as sectarian, just as Mohammedism, Buddhism and other forms of belief. Objection was made to the carols on the ground that Jesus of Nazareth was referred to as God and Savior, in violation of the teachings of Judaism. No action was taken by the board at that time, as the percentage of Jewish children in the schools is small.

Thomas Hardy, the English novelist, called by Kipling "Lord of the Wessex coast and of the lands thereby," lives near Dirchester. Recently he received a visit from the Prince of Wales and as a result of the royal visit, photographs of the novelist and the prince abound in the illustrated English press. Mr. Hardy's workshop is a top room of Max Gate, his home, from the windows of which are noble views of woods-downs, and meadows, with the waters of the Frome meandering among them. When engaged on his novels, Mr. Hardy betakes himself to this room immediately after breakfast each day, and writes steadily until the whole day's work is done. If anything interferes with that schedule he finds it impossible to settle down to work again until after sunset.

YORK COUNTY YOUNG COUPLES MARRIED SAT.

Saturday afternoon Miss Bertie Aas, daughter of O. J. Aas, a well known farmer of the Oak Tree neighborhood, in York County, became the wife of Harold Swingle, a brother of J. L. Swingle, of Williamsburg. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. B. O. Score, with only members of the families present.

The young couple left for a trip to Washington and other points, after which they will reside in Richmond, where Mr. Swingle is employed by the Arnold Construction Company.

Birthplaces Of Our Presidents

(New York Times)

Theodore Roosevelt is the only President of the United States who was born in a great city. The only other President born in a city of considerable size was Mr. Taft: Cincinnati at the time of his birth had a population of not more than 150,000. Three Presidents were born in towns that had not then grown into cities. The two Adamases in Quincy, Mass., and Andrew Johnson in Raleigh, N. C. All the other Presidents were born in villages or small towns or the actual country. Washington was born near Bridges Creek in Virginia; Jackson near Cureton's Pond, N. C.; Lincoln near Hodgenville, Ky.; Harding near Blooming Grove, Ohio, and Coolidge amid the silences of a granite cradle near the village of Plymouth, Vt. Among those born in villages or small towns were Van Buren in Kinderhook, N. Y.; Grant in Point Pleasant, Ohio, and Cleveland in the Presbyterian manse at Caldwell, N. J.

Many of the Presidents were born on the farm and all of them except Mr. Roosevelt had an essentially rural environment. This was to be expected, for most of the boys in the first century of our national life were of country birth and breeding. In Washington's youth all the boys born in the same year with him could be seated in the Harvard Stadium or the Yale Bowl. There were virtually no city boys. It is only within a quarter of a century that the United States has ceased to be predominantly agricultural, and it is only very recently that the urban population has grown to 50 per cent of the total population. There has been a good reason, even numerically, for the pre-eminence of the country born boy. Henceforth, if the country born boy maintains his pre-eminence it will be on other than quantitative grounds.

Roosevelt, though city born, was "rural minded." He loved the out-of-doors. He was ever going back to the land. He knew his America from the ground up. One of his most notable achievements was the rural life study which he inaugurated. It was prompted not by a mere academic interest, but by a vital concern in the country life of America, the development of its agriculture and the care of its forests. He knew especially the West and partook in his own restless ardor and hardihood of the individualistic, indomitable spirit of the pioneer. And the house of his birth, here in the city keeps a faithful memory of a home that was typical even of the American city homes at that time throughout the United States, a type that is unfortunately disappearing. In place of the "home" has come the apartment or the tenement for a great proportion of the people who live in the great cities. Most of the children grow up without knowing the meaning of a home, as it was enjoyed by the Roosevelt family—the home in which our institutions had their secure foundations.

Scientists claim they can add ten years to life. Bill for it would probably take away twenty.

SPORTS

BETWEEN THE GOAL POSTS

Coming down to hard facts, the second team should get credit for the victory over Randolph-Macon. The actual playing time of the entire second team was more than that of the varsity. The second-string scored seven points while Randolph-Macon never threatened their goal line, which facts place the actual victory in their hands. The varsity passes completely bewildered the Yellow Jackets time after time. Coach Tasker is exceedingly fortunate in having a second team that can hold its own against most of the "Class B" colleges.

An article in the "Virginian-Pilot" states the following in regards to the William and Mary team: "There is no question that they are the best in the State in Class B Colleges, with only one contender for the inter-State honor, Wake Forest." If outsiders concede us this select position, there is no reason why we should not get it firmly fixed in mind that we are the best, although the real test is still ahead.

Last Saturday, Roanoke, with a strong team, had to resort to passing to defeat Hampden-Sidney. Coach Bernier is steadily improving the Tiger defense, and tomorrow's contest should be a great affair. Any team is dangerous on the offense when they have a halfback of Ben Smith calibre; he will bear a great deal of attention tomorrow.

The dope was somewhat upset last Saturday when V. P. I., which loomed a favorite to defeat W. & L., fumbled its way to the small end of the score. "Bob" Harper, of the Times-Dispatch, attributes the W. & L. victory to the fact that every man on the team "followed the ball." Next Saturday Virginia goes to Washington and Lee for the first time in fifteen years. W. & L. stands out as the favorite, but so did they last year.

Notre Dame seems to be the wonder team of the season. With victories over the Army and Princeton to their credit, they defeated Georgia Tech 35-0 last Saturday. Coach Tasker was exceedingly fortunate in securing Notre Dame's famous coach, Knute Rockne, as head of the coaches' school which will be conducted here next summer.

We have always wondered why tennis has not been made an inter-collegiate sport among the women here. While we may not have a Helen Wills or a Suzanne Lenglen in the student body, we could make a very creditable showing against several of the women's colleges of the State. We would suggest that the contestants in last year's tournament have a meeting and elect a manager to arrange a schedule for next spring.

Hallowe'en Party At Mine Depot Tuesday

Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Howard Ferris, Jr., were hostesses at a most delightful Hallowe'en party given at the home of Lieut. and Mrs. Pollard at the Navy Mine Base, Yorktown, Tuesday night. Decorations appropriate to Hallowe'en were carried out in a most attractive manner. A special feature of the affair was an exceptionally good radio concert, which was greatly enjoyed by the guests.

The first prizes were captured by Miss Sue Hundley and Lieut. Coming. Mrs. John F. Braun and Lieut. Pollard won the second. The consolation fell to the lot of Miss Bethany Renforth.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John F. Braun, of Philadelphia; Capt. and Mrs. Norris, of the U. S. Marine Corps; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ferris, Jr., Mrs. Edrington, Mrs. Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ferris, Sr., Misses Bethany Renforth, Sue Hundley, Lieutenants Coming, Evans and Sparks, and Jack Hundley.

Indians Walk Over Yellow Jackets

The William and Mary eleven easily defeated the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets Saturday by the score of 27-0. Coach Tasker gave the varsity a rest and started the second team against the visitors. They made a very good showing and would have scored in the first quarter but for several fumbles. The reserves were withdrawn in favor of the varsity in the middle of the second period, who quickly shoved the ball over for two touchdowns.

The second team again took the field in the second half and more than held their own during the third period. They had no trouble advancing the ball and soon made a touchdown. In the fourth quarter the varsity went on the field and although Randolph-Macon was fighting grimly, they were unable to prevent William and Mary from making another score.

The lines of both teams played well and the consistent gains made by Charles, and Barnes of the reserves, was especially good. Hastings and Cain made good gains for the varsity. Cain played the entire game and did excellent work throughout. Keister, Matsu, Jordan, and J. Todd also played well for William and Mary. Rash, Crouse, Bell and Urmy played good ball for Randolph-Macon. Features of the game were several long passes from Matsu to Jordan, one of which resulted in a touchdown.

The line-up and summary follows:

W. & M.	Position	R.-M.
Williams	L. E.	Bell
Hines	L. T.	Smoot
Fletcher	L. G.	Rash
Alkerke	C.	Hales
Keister	R. G.	Beale

Touchdowns — Hastings (2), Jordan, Charles. Goals after touchdown — Matsu (2), by dropkick; Hastings (1), by dropkick. Substitutions: W. & M.—L. Todd, Young, Elliott, Parsons, House, J. Todd, Jordan, Hastings, Irwin, Matsu, Gilmore. Randolph-Macon — Whitehurst, Beale, Kent, McCutcheon. Officials: Referee — Apple, Michigan; umpire — Smith, Virginia; head linesman — Hargrove, V. P. I. Time of periods—15 minutes.

TUTHILL-CHRISTIAN

Margaret Tuthill and William Turner Christian, former students of the College, were quietly married at the home of the bride in Portsmouth, Thursday, October 23. Miss Tuthill was a student here for three years. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Mr. Christian is Sports Editor of the Richmond News-Leader. While at College he was active in all phases of college life. He was editor of the Flat Hat during the session of 1921-22, and is a member of Kappa Alpha.

First Meeting Held By Women Athletes

The Women's Athletic Association held its first meeting of the year in chapel last Thursday afternoon, October 25. Tucker Jones opened the meeting with a talk on how girls are benefited by athletics.

Caroline Sinclair, President of the Association, introduced the captains and managers of the different teams, who made short talks, urging all girls, particularly new ones, to come out for athletics.

Miss Thelma Brown, basketball coach, announced that practice would start the first of November, a month sooner than usual. Besides the varsity and dormitory games, there are to be many class and intra-mural games for this year.

Ellen Moody was unanimously elected tennis manager.

DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT AFTER GAME

There will be a dance at the Biltmore, in Norfolk, after the game Saturday night, to which all William and Mary students are invited. Music to be furnished by the Club Southern Orchestra.

strong since their defeats by the Navy and Syracuse, and are fresh from decisive victories over Guilford, Trinity, and Randolph-Macon, having defeated Trinity by a larger score than Carolina succeeded in getting from the Methodists, and comparing favorably with the one garnered by Virginia. The Tigers suffered stinging defeats at the hands of Virginia Tech and Roanoke, and bowed to the mediocre team of Elon, thus giving the Indians a comparative edge over Hampden-Sidney, and if the same brilliant offensive and aerial is exhibited against the Tigers as was displayed against Trinity, the Presbyterians will without a doubt again be scalped by William and Mary. With the fighting spirit of the Tigers known, the game with them will mark the beginning of a hard road for William and Mary, with Delaware, Roanoke, and Richmond still to be met.

NEGLECT—OR THOUGHTLESSNESS?

It would be interesting to know just how many students stop to consider what college life really is, and how much they are getting from it.

College life is far more than wearing the latest Finchley suit; foulard ties and camel-hair sweaters do not make the college man; they only contribute their very small share toward his development.

Some men seem to have the idea that they are doing the College a favor by being here. "What has the College got to worry about? I'm paying my good money to be here."

But did those who have such ideas ever stop to think what they owe the College? If numbers were all that counted, it would be easy to fill the College with a bunch of low-grade bums—and the enrollment would still be eight hundred, or what not.

William and Mary has been one of the most talked of schools in the country for the past two or three years—especially in the North. Why? Because we sent a good baseball team up there and licked some of the cream of the Northern schools; because Harvard met us in Richmond, and went back defeated by a big score; because William and Mary made a creditable showing against Navy and Syracuse, two of the best in the East.

And William and Mary did all this because there were those who had such a spirit of loyalty that they went out and worked for places on the teams; because there were many of the students who went to rallies and to practice and encouraged the teams.

At the rally last Wednesday evening the Freshman class was well represented. But of the upper-classmen, not more than a corporal's guard were out. What sort of spirit is that? How can those who constantly holler about beating Richmond Thanksgiving expect the team to work when the upper-classmen are not behind it? The majority of upper-classmen are only too ready to upbraid a freshman who is away from rallies, but calmly strolls off to the movie himself, or to the pool-room.

We've got a good coach; we've got the best football team William and Mary ever had; we're going to have the best basketball team we ever had, and so on. But the whole works will be a miserable failure unless the upper-classmen get behind the situation and give a little of their precious time to supporting the teams.

THE LIBRARY

The Library is the property of the students. It is open to them and they are welcome to use it at all times.

But some of those who use it have been thoughtlessly abusing some of the privileges offered them. To keep the books in order, to render the system of stacking useful, requires a great deal of time upon the part of the staff. If a book is put back in the wrong place in the stack, it requires hours to find it when it is wanted again. If books are taken from the Library without being charged, a great deal of time may be wasted searching for it.

If students are careless and place books in the stack upside down, the appearance of the Library is spoiled.

Students who use the Library are requested by those in charge to refrain from carelessness in restacking books after use. If you want to take a book out of the Library, go to the desk and have it charged to you, and when you replace books in stacks, do not leave them upside down, and out of place. By observing these simple little rules, you will help the staff, and will be, at the same time, greatly increasing the efficiency of the Library service.

The Flat Hat takes off its hat to the girl who so cleverly represented it at the Hallowe'en party. She chose a senior cap and gown as a foundation for a newspaper envelopment. Everyone was attracted by this figure of startling publicity, and the significance between the cap's level surface and the newspaper. Such an artistic advertisement was indeed a gratifying surprise.

Now that monthly tests are with us again, the professors have adopted as a slogan Marshall Petain's immortal words, "They shall not pass."

Rushing is that which drives us crazy, and gets our goats, as well.

Jefferson Hall's 1923-24 motto is: "Mutuemur" which, translated, means "borrow it."

Among Our Exchanges

The Flat Hat is glad to list among its exchanges the "Skull and Bones," of the Medical College of Virginia. "Skull and Bones" was founded last year by Julian Brooks, one time editor of the Flat Hat.

Chowan College in Murfreesboro, North Carolina, has just celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary.

"The Rotunda," of the Farmville Normal School, is far ahead of the usual run of normal school papers. "The Rotunda" is at present running a series of articles on how to use the library.

Definite work has begun on the 37th volume of Corks and Curls, which will make its appearance during Easter Week.

The Unlimited Cut System has been adopted by the upper classes at Princeton. Sophomores maintaining first or second group standing in Freshman years, and Juniors and Seniors maintaining third group standing in their preceding year are excused from compulsory attendance at class exercises. The purpose of this system is to give the student more independence in pursuing his studies.

The Ring-tum Phi of Washington and Lee has recently published the "Dance Resolution," adopted by the student body, the first of which is: "Resolved, that our dances hereafter be DRY."

New Books Received

The Flat Hat acknowledges receipt from the Century Company, New York, of the following books, reviews of which will be published at an early date:

Changeling, and Other Stories, by Donne Byrne.

The Black Parrott, by Harry Hervey.

Fombombo, by Stribling.

Campus Silhouettes

Portly and genial, he goes about dispensing smiles and witticisms. Insignificant is she who has not been paid courtly compliment by our rotund and learned maker of pretty speeches.

With a countenance as bland and as devoid of the traces of intelligence as the unlined face of an infant, he plods along with lowered head. Unimportant in appearance, and seriously contemplating the little world about him, he even becomes garrulous on occasion, to let us know that he warrants our most respectful attention.

Strutting forth with lordly air, and evidently out for world conquests, serenely saying the obvious thing and presenting a laughable caricature of Lord Chesterfield, he goes about making himself indispensable. The proverbial conceit of man will never die while he is with us.

Statisticians say that the American people waste four million words daily by saying "Hello!" But what would four million "ellos" be worth if we saved them?

Sleep is a great thing. Greatest on earth. Keeps some people from arguing 24 hours a day.

NOTICE!

Several complaints have been registered by students who do not eat at the Dining Hall, and who have not received their Flat Hats. A notice is on the Bulletin Board asking all who do not eat at the Dining Hall to write their names and addresses so that their copies can be mailed to them. The circulation manager cannot be responsible for the delivery of your Flat Hat unless you put your name and address on the paper provided for that purpose on the Main Bulletin Board.

Initial Hockey Game Interesting Affair

The "Old Girls" were handed a big surprise last Friday afternoon in the first Intra-Mural hockey game of the season, when the "New Girls" held them to the close score of 3 to 0. The "New Girls," in spite of the limited amount of practice they had received, played exceedingly well and there seems to be a quantity of good material which only needs developing. Both teams showed up well and as soon as a larger field can be procured it is hoped that they will show an even greater improvement.

This "horseless polo contest" was well attended by both sexes and considerable enthusiasm was manifested. Several more of these games will be played by the "Indianettes" in the near future and are being looked forward to with keen interest.

The line-up was as follows:

Old Girls (3)	Pos.	New Girls (0)
Bland (C)	Center Inside	Schmucker
A. Moss	Right Inside	Carter
Sinclair	Left Inside	Wilkins
Moody	Right Wing	Seagoff
Johnson	Left Wing	Ribble
Best	Centre Half Back	Hastings
Davis	Right Half Back	Hubbard
Sears	Left Half Back	Bernheiser
Peters	Right Full Back	Armstrong (C)
Dew	Left Full Back	L. Best

N. Hubbard Watson
Goal Keeper
Substitutes: Old Girls—Gaines, Wise. New Girls—McCutcheon, Dulin, Wenger, Taylor.
Timekeeper—Miss Swan. Fifteen minute halves.

BUS SERVICE FROM NEWPORT NEWS

Bus service from Newport News to Williamsburg was started yesterday morning by the Peninsula Transit Corporation. The first bus will leave Twenty-eighth street and Washington avenue at 6:30 and last at 11 P. M. From Williamsburg buses will leave at 5:10 A. M. until 8:40 P. M. The company is offering William and Mary students special commuters tickets at half price.

Some guys are so broke that they call money "John." Not familiar enough with it to call it "Jack."

LIBRARY PORTRAITS

The portraits in the library
Could tell you tales galore,
Of devious ways
Of other days,
Of old and ancient lore.

If they wished to they could tell us
What in other days befell,
But these tales rare
Would not compare,
With tales of today they could tell.

From sightseeing points of vantage
On the library's four walls,
They could swiftly relate
Histories up to date
Beside which the ancient kind palls.

And when the clock strikes ten at night
They go to sleep toot sweet,
To save, I ween,
Their eyesight keen,
To see the next day's treat.

Physical Ed. Classes Becoming Popular

The Department of Physical Education, which began its regular work along with the other departments, is now getting down to hard work, and many of the "Ducs" express it as their opinion that this is the "time that tries men's muscles as well as their souls." L. Tucker Jones is in charge of the department, with R. C. Siersema acting as instructor for freshmen and Miss Thelma Brown conducting classes for women.

In addition to the regular gym classes which every freshman is required to take, there are several other activities which are becoming popular. Within the past two weeks, Mr. Siersema has organized a boxing class which meets every Saturday morning and another in apparatus work which meets an hour later than the boxers.

In view of the fact that the classes in these two phases of physical education have just gotten under way, it is hoped that students will join before the work becomes too far advanced for them to catch up with the others. The boxing class is being taught the fundamentals both of arm and footwork in the art of defense and offense. Much instruction is given, while the men get only a few minutes actual workout at each meeting of the class.

Contrary to the opinion of many, the apparatus class was not formed to make acrobats out of the men who take it, but to teach them control of all the muscles, and give them freedom of movement at all times. There are also several classes in higher education under the personal supervision of Professor Jones, the purpose being to train men for teachers in physical education.

Under its present program the department has been very successful in getting men to go out for track and other forms of athletics and many of the men are continuing their gym classes in addition to regular practice. However, this is not required except in special cases and a man can drop the work as soon as the instructor thinks he is in condition.

All freshmen were put through a series of tests on Tuesday for the purpose of ascertaining their development during the first month and to determine their grades. The tests in almost every class were satisfactory, it is said.

CHANGE IN TRAIN SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SINCE SUNDAY

Few people around the College are acquainted with the change of train schedules which went into effect on the C. & O. last Sunday. The west-bound local, which formerly left here at 7:47, now goes at 7:40. The through train time has been changed from 10:43 to 10:34. The first afternoon train, formerly leaving here at 1:53, now goes at 1:44. The 5:43 through train in the afternoon has been changed to 5:34, and the evening local from 6:22 to 6:15.

Going east the time of trains remains about the same as formerly, there being only two or three minutes difference in any of them.

BELGIAN ROYAL FAMILY IS MARRYING ITALIAN

It is expected that the betrothal of Crown Prince Leopold, of Belgium, and Princess Mafalda, second daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, will be made public on November 4, according to Le Matin. On the same day the engagement of Crown Prince Humbert, of Italy, to Princess Marie Jose, only daughter of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, of Belgium, will be announced, the newspaper says.

Her: "Don't you think Gorma Nish is just thrilling in "Wild Oats?"

Him: "Yeah. That's her best cereal."

Virginia Team Is Slowly Developing

Coach Neale Is Using Same System as With Baseball Team; Big Games Yet To Come

Coach Earle Neale is following the same policy in developing Virginia's football team that he used last spring in coaching the baseball nine. And he hopes for the same results.

In baseball Virginia got off to a slow start and it was not until late in the season that the Orange and Blue found itself able to play winning ball. But by shifting his men from position to position, Coach Neale at length worked out a team that won the last games played with Georgia, South Carolina, V. P. I., Maryland and North Carolina.

When Virginia lost to V. M. I. on the gridiron this fall a complete turnover was called for and when the rearranged team went up against Trinity it seemed an almost entirely new organization. Such was the driving power of Virginia's eleven that it went through the whole game without being forced to punt, and was held for downs only once, then when the third string players had the ball close to the Trinity goal.

By shifting Carted Diffey from end to quarter, and Benny Arnold from quarter to half, Coach Neale greatly strengthened the Virginia backfield. Baldwin, who had been used as end and tackle, was found to be much more of an asset as a guard.

In preparation for the hard games that come at the end of the season, Washington and Lee in Lexington next Saturday, and Georgia, V. P. I., and North Carolina in quick succession, the Virginia coaches may work out other changes for there will have to be some plugging of holes in the line. Virginia will have to fight to a finish to make a showing against the strong team of the Generals.

James Carraway, of the College, will substitute as organist at Bruton Church during the absence of Mrs. Purcell on her vacation.

stack room. When these are installed, the library will have a capacity of 200 readers.

The library receives regularly 400 carefully selected periodicals, current numbers of which are in the reading rooms at all times. They are not allowed to circulate outside the library.

The library is run on the Honor System, and students are allowed to enter the stack rooms at will. It is very seldom that a student betrays the confidence placed in him by removing books without having them charged.

A check has been kept on the number of students using the library, and it has been found that the average attendance is 400 a day. In addition to students a number of visitors from all parts of the country visit the library. The library is open to visitors and students from 8:30 a. m. to 10 p. m. on week days, and from 2 to 6 p. m. on Sundays.

There's No Place Like Home

Well, there isn't. There's no place like it.

Even if we do gaze longingly at photographs of distant paradises and sigh sadly.

Even if we do talk about taking trips around the world, or embarking on expeditions to the North Pole, or setting out for the South Seas.

There's something about the other places that never measure up to home.

There's something about them that we can't help missing.

Our slippers aren't laid out for us in the same way.

The bed doesn't feel half so cozy.

The coffee doesn't taste nearly so good.

And we never know where to look for the glue or the thumb-tacks.

It isn't the same when we awake in the morning.

Of course, there are all sorts of astonishing sights to see at other places.

But, somehow, we'd rather be comfortable than see sights.

Then, there isn't the same being used to things.

And there isn't the same feeling of ease.

We can knock it all we want to, and say we're tired of the old place, but just give us a few days somewhere else, and we're ready to hop back on the jump.

Then we'll swear that there's no place in the world that can touch it.

—C. G. S. in Life.
